Presenter

Elaine H. Berkowitz, CDA, BS, DMD

Elaine Berkowitz, DMD is from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where she enlisted in the Army Reserves in 1974. Her education includes a BS from the University of Pittsburgh in Vocational Education, the University of Pittsburgh School of Dental Medicine, and Ohio State University, College of Dentistry, where she completed a General Practice Residency.

Dr. Berkowitz is a member of numerous military and dental associations. She is active in the Reserve Officers Association running the ROTC and JROTC programs. She recently retired from the Army Reserves with 38 years of service. She deployed four times and has accumulated numerous medals and awards. Dr. Berkowitz presents the “Dr. Elaine H. Berkowitz Excellence in Geriatric Dentistry Award” to the top student in Geriatric Dentistry at Ohio State University every year. Dr. Berkowitz was named one of Pittsburgh’s Top Dentists in 2007.

Session Description

Allegheny County has the second largest population of elderly citizens in the United States. There is a good chance that a high percentage of this population will be coming into your dental practice to be treated. Also, special needs patients are now staying in their homes, with their families, rather than institutions. They, too, will be seeking treatment through their local dental practice. This lecture will sort through the many complexities of treating both types of patients. You will leave this course with the knowledge and confidence to treat both the geriatric population and the special needs patients.

Learning Objectives

- Be aware of the geriatric population and the special needs patients having limited access to care.
- Be able to deal with “out of the ordinary delivery of dental care.”
- Understand that special needs patients are a diverse population in terms of their dental needs and mental and physical capabilities.
- Understand the specific types of dental care for the geriatric and special needs patient presented.
