Presenter

Sandra Lee Boody, CDA, RDH, M. Voc Ed.

A University of Pittsburgh graduate, Sandra served 25 years as the Director and Founder of the Dental Careers Program at Northern Area Special Purpose Schools. She developed and published competency based curriculum for the Department of Education and also presented curriculum seminars and biannual Technical Updates for Dental Educators at State and National Health Curriculum conferences.

Since the beginning of her career Sandra has also worked clinically in the hospital and nursing home arena. Sandra has also been employed as a private practice clinical hygienist, a product representative, International sales team educator and product specialist. Most recently she has served as an oral care consultant training nursing staff and pharmacists in critical care settings, rehabilitation, nursing homes and hospice care. She also completed Orfacial Myology training at the University of Southern California.

Having survived the ravages of cancer she now speaks to dental/medical audiences, and support groups. Most recently she presented to the Oncology Nursing Society's Annual Session, Oncology Nursing Symposium, Diamond Pharmacy Consultants, Special Care Dentistry, West Virginia Health Care Association Annual Session, Sjogren's Syndrome, Pemphigus National Conference and MD Anderson's Cancer Center.

Sandra has served as Western PA Dental Hygiene Association President, a patient advocate, advisory member and speaker for the National Cancer Institute Specialized Programs of Research Excellence and is an active member of SPOHNC National Survivor Volunteer Network. Her personal journey in combination with her years of clinical experience has been an inspiration to national and international audiences.

Learning Objectives

- Identify current diagnostic and treatment modalities
- Review medications typically prescribed and their effects
- Overview of prescriptive and over the counter oral care products available
- Establish oral care and nutritional protocols to minimize complications
- Identify tips for counseling the oncology patient/survivor
- Identify protocols for patient management in office, hospital, nursing home & hospice

Session Description

With more than 1 million new cases of cancer diagnosed each year, and with the increasing shift to “outpatient management,” it is more likely that you will treat an increasing number of oncology patients. Oral complications can, and do lead to treatment interruptions. Medically necessary oral care before, during, and after oncology treatment is vital to overall quality of life and patient survival.

Explore this timely topic with an interdisciplinary approach! Review the current diagnostic and treatment modalities, common oral complications; learn first hand tricks of the trade for treating and counseling the oncology patient/survivor. Develop strategies for incorporating ‘dental oncology care’ into your practice growth.
